Staycations – Making Your Home the Perfect Retreat

Many families are choosing to have a family “staycation” this year - a vacation where they stay home and take advantage of local activities and events, entertain friends, or just kick back and relax. But if your home feels tired and lacks some of the niceties that would make it someplace you’d want to spend time, let T&K help you with these practical projects that will make your home your perfect retreat:

Create an Impressive First Impression

First impressions are lasting impressions. So update the outside of your home to make it someplace you want to come home to. Whether you redesign and update the façade, add modern, light-filled windows and doors, or simply replace worn woodwork and siding, a fresh look from T&K will give you and others a fresh perspective on your home. Plus, it gives you the perfect opportunity to add energy-efficient, low-maintenance materials which will save you money going forward.

Opt for an Outdoor Oasis

T&K can also create a bonus room for your home by turning your bland backyard space into an inviting, livable outdoor entertainment area. A dull, splintered deck can become a beautiful, low-maintenance, multi-tiered gathering spot, complete with screened-in porch. A new patio and outdoor kitchen will let you host a neighborhood barbecue to remember. Whether you keep it basic and welcoming, or create your own mini-Club Med, you will love having a new place to put up your feet and let go as you enjoy your everyday vacation.

Combat a Cramped Kitchen

If you have a cramped, outdated kitchen isolated from the rest of the house, maybe it’s time to make it someplace you feel inspired. T&K can reinvent your existing space to improve flow and encourage socialization, or simply gift yourself updated cabinets, expanded counter space and appliances that let your culinary talents flow.

Eliminate Old Bathroom Blahs

Start your day right with beautiful and modern bathroom updates that will improve your a.m. mood better than that first cup of coffee. Whether it's trading out worn fixtures, installing shiny new tiling or flooring, or even expanding your bath to include a double shower or relaxing jet tub, you'll feel like you've given yourself a new lease on life each morning.

Make Room for Fun

T&K can make your home your favorite escape with a home movie theater or game room to encourage family togetherness, a home gym/sauna fit for a personal trainer, or a bright sunroom perfect for whiling away your day with the paper or the latest best seller.

So get away from it all without going away, and make your "staycation" one to remember. Just call T&K at (732)625-9885 to help you transform your home into a place you will love to retreat to every day and season of the year.
